Demand Showdown From Yugoslavia On Plane Incident

America Sets Friday Night for Release of Airmen; Permit or Inquiry

LJUBLJANA, Yugoslavia, Aug. 22.—(P)—Yugoslav authorities today released Americans who had been taken in custody after their C-47 Army Transport plane was forced down here August 9.

By Alex H. Singleton

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(P)—The United States is considering fighter plane protection for American transport planes which may have to pass near the Yugoslav border while flying the Austrian-Italian route, top diplomatic authorities reported today.

The plan under consideration would retain the present absolute ban against any American flights over Yugoslav territory and would be designed to protect American aircraft from attack by Yugoslav fighter planes which might venture over Austria.

The whole consideration is based on a point made in the ultimatum sent to the Yugoslav government late yesterday in which the United States said that the two airplanes already attacked by Yugoslav fighters may not have been over Yugoslavia at all.

By Alex H. Singleton

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(P)—A 48-hour ultimatum to Yugoslavia ticked away today with the United States ready—if necessary—for a showdown involving the whole structure of world peace.

In a grave and angry indictment, this nation set tomorrow night as the deadline for the Soviet-backed Balkan state to (1) free imprisoned American airmen of one plane attacked by Yugoslav fighter craft, and (2) permit U. S. diplomats to investigate a second incident of a plane shot down near Marshal Tito's summer home.

It was noted that unless those "demands" are met within the time limit—roughly about 10 p. m. (EST) Friday—the United States government "will call upon the Security Council of the United Nations to meet promptly and to take appropriate action."

This would pose a clear-cut test of the Security Council to function as an international agency for preserving peace in the face of veto powers held by the big five nations.

Ready To Meet Challenge
There were strong fears in American diplomatic quarters of possible Yugoslav defiance of the ultimatum—and with that possibility the chance that a Russian veto of Security Council action would be met.

But there was no American government reluctance to meet that challenge.

Even before somber-faced Yu-

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(P)—Official records today showed that the United States has poured more than $269,855,440 into Yugoslavia in wartime and postwar aid.

This includes lend-lease and assistance by UNRRA, most of the latter being American money, but does not include direct military aid by American forces in wartime.

The State Department fixed the amount of American lend-lease to Yugoslavia at $32,000,000.

goslav Charge D'Affairs Sergije Makiedo was handed the note late yesterday, Secretary of State Byrnes in Paris ordered Under Secretary Acheson to begin preparing the American case and to be ready to present it personally to the Security Council.

Developments
A firm stand by the United States against Russia's demands for a share in the military control of the strategic Dardanelles.

2. Disclosure by those high in government of a firm new policy against appeasing Russia and against a further spread of Soviet domination over smaller and weaker countries.

If that policy is to come up for a quick test, the issue was unfolded in last night's blistering note to Yugoslavia.

Shorn of the traditional diplomatic salutations, it was couched in language perhaps without precedent in peacetime communications from this country to another.

Yugoslavians Might Reject US Ultimatum

LONDON, Aug. 22.—(P)—A Yugoslav news executive said today Marshall Tito's government might reject the United States ultimatum because "it would be a good thing for us to have the whole thing threshed out before the Security Council."

"That would prove we are not wild barbarians, as the Americans seem to think," said Milivoj Sujic, supervisor of the official Yugoslav news agency, Tanjug.

"We have done no wrong and we have no desire to bring disaster to any Americans, either individually or collectively."

"The last thing the Yugoslavs want is another war," he said.

The Yugoslav's office is connected with the Yugoslav embassy here. He said he had "no direct word" from Belgrade today.

Byrnes Leaves Peace Parley, Sees Advisors

By Robert Eunson

PARIS, Aug. 22.—(P)—U. S. Secretary of State James E. Byrnes left the peace conference session almost as soon as it had convened this morning to confer with his advisors on the Yugoslav situation.

His action emphasized how the United States' blunt 48-hour ultimatum to Yugoslavia overshadowed all else among the diplomats assembled in Paris to write Europe's peace treaties.

Byrnes closeted himself at his headquarters with Charles E. Bohlen, state department advisor on eastern European affairs and Samuel Deber, advisor on European affairs.

There appeared little immediate prospect that there would be any official communication from the Yugoslav peace conference delegation on the ultimatum, which demanded that Yugoslavia release American airmen forced down in Yugoslav territory within 48 hours or face action before the United Nations security council.

Although high Yugoslav delegation members were busy on Paris angles of the tense situation, one Yugoslav source said "the matter is in the hands of Marshal Tito," indicating all action and statements would come from the head of the government.

There was no indication whether the ultimatum would be accepted or rejected.

Halt Transfer of Surplus Camps

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(P)—The War Assets Administration today halted the proposed transfer of 53 surplus camps and war plants to educational institutions, pending a congressional inquiry into such "gifts."

The WAA stop order followed disclosure before the House Surplus Property committee that the Thunderbird, Ariz., airfield had been "sold" at 100 per cent discount to the newly incorporated American Institute for foreign trade.

The order blocks the "sale" of more than $13,000,000 worth of other government property and the leasing of about as much more.

All the properties had been assigned for disposal at a 100 per cent discount to non-profit, tax-exempt institutions. Those earmarked for lease were to have gone for nominal sums, such as $1 a year rental.

WAA said the stop-order resulted from action of the committee headed by Rep. Slaughter (D-Mo.) in "questioning the authority of the WAA to dispose of Thunderbird Field" near Glendale, Ariz., to a group of former army officers headed by Lt. Gen. B. K. Yount.

Campaign Was Cheap
JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 22.—(P)—Rep. Clarence Cannon of Elsberry, unopposed in the Democratic ninth district primary election, reported to the secretary of state today he spent only six cents for his campaign—for post.

The fact underscored both the anxiety and the determination to have the issue out. It had been rejected less than 24 hours earlier by two other major diplomatic developments:

Developments
1. A firm stand by the United States against Russia's demands for a share in the military control of the strategic Dardanelles.

2. Disclosure by those high in government of a firm new policy against appeasing Russia and against a further spread of Soviet domination over smaller and weaker countries.

If that policy is to come up for a quick test, the issue was unfolded in last night's blistering note to Yugoslavia.

Shorn of the traditional diplomatic salutations, it was couched in language perhaps without precedent in peacetime communications from this country to another.

Wilson Bell Has Unusual Request

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 22.—(P)—Secretary of State Wilson Bell received this plain request from a Kansas City man today in a well-typed letter:

"Will you please enlighten me on the subject of our new constitution which has been in the mill entirely too long. Please tell me whether this constitution has been agreed upon and passed and submitted to the people, if a submis-

"If not, when will it probably be submitted, if ever?"

Bell's office sent the man a copy of the new constitution, written in 1943 and 1944 by a statewide convention and adopted by popular vote on Feb. 27, 1945.

The man's name is pur-

J. M. Allgaier Of Lincoln Fatally Hurt

Pickup Truck Goes off Highway North of Lincoln

James M. Allgaier, 56 year old hardware merchant at Lincoln, Mo., died at 5 o'clock this morning at Bothwell hospital from injuries received between 5 and 5:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, in a motor vehicle accident about three miles north of Lincoln.

Mr. Allgaier suffered a concussion at the base of the skull when his head was caught in the door of his 1939 Dodge pickup truck after it ran off the road, in avoiding a collision with another automobile approaching from the south.

Troopers Pete Stohr and Wayne Allman, who investigated the accident, reported that Allgaier, going south on highway 65, had apparently passed one car, started by another, when he met an automobile while he was on the left side of the road. He then swerved his truck into the ditch at the left side of the highway to avoid a collision with the oncoming vehicle. His truck rolled over when it hit the bottom of the embankment.

Leaving Sedalia

Mr. Allgaier was on his way home from Sedalia, where he had been visiting his brother, A. B. Allgaier, proprietor of the Terry hotel.

Mr. Allgaier was born in Gower, Mo., October 6, 1890, the son of Albert William and Lottie Allgaier. He was married to Miss Louella Mayfield, of Pleasant Green, on May 10, 1916. He started in the hardware business in Lincoln thirty years ago with his father. His father predeceased him in 1937, and his mother died in 1940.

Surviving are his wife, three children, Mrs. C. H. Parker, of Redlands, Cal.; Ann Frances and Jimmy Lou, of the home; two grandchildren, five sisters, Mrs. John Melton, Lakeman, Mo.; Mrs. Pius Buckman, Shelbina, Mo.; Mrs. Lambert Buckman, Monroe City, Mo.; Mrs. Carl West, Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. Tom Freeman, Fargo, N. D., and two brothers, Dan Allgaier, of Kansas City, and A. B. Allgaier, of Sedalia.

One child died at birth.

The body was taken to the McLaughlin funeral home, but complete arrangements have not been made, awaiting the arrival of the daughter from California. Short services will be held at Lincoln, with the regular services and burial at Cole Camp.

Stork Arrives In Busy Store

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22.—(P)—Ronald Pracyznski, 6½ years, arrived one month too soon—and right in the middle of a downtown Philadelphia department store.

The stork caught his mother, Mrs. Hermina Paczynski, by surprise. She had gone downtown to pay a bill.

The "special event" took place in the Strawbridge and Clothier infirmary where Dr. Rachel Wildham reported it was the first birth in the store and "I've been here for 28 years."

Ronald is going to get a complete layette—a gift by the store to its unexpected godchild.

Navy Hospital For St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 22.—(P)—Construction of a 1,000-bed, navy hospital and medical research center in St. Louis county is scheduled to start next spring. Congressman Walter C. Ploeser said last night.

Ploeser, a member of the navy appropriations committee, said funds for the $15,000,000 institution were included in the naval appropriations bill passed by Congress in June.

The exact site for the new hospital has not been selected. It will be the second large service hospital for the St. Louis area.

The Veterans' Administration has announced plans for one of similar size and cost within the city limits.

Smoke Dreams

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 22.—(P)—It's publicity that counts in Hollywood they say, and Miss Jacqueline Lee, a singer believes it.

Winner of a radio contest yesterday, Miss Lee was told she could have any wish she wanted within reason. She said she wanted her name inscribed in a mile high.

The radio sponsor got hold of a skywriter and said he would

Oranges And Coal Prices Up

Lower Meat Prices September 9; All Out OPA Drive for Black Marketeers

By Marvin L. Arrowsmith

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(P)—Higher coal prices went into effect today and oranges are going up, but a meat price cut is due Sept. 9.

Naming the date when retail meat ceilings are to apply again, OPA chief Paul Porter also pledged an all-out drive against black markets.

As this campaign developed, OPA authorized a price boost of 30 cents a ton for hard coal and for coke, and an increase of 18 cents a ton for soft coal.

These retail price hikes are required by the new price control law, OPA said.

On oranges, maximum prices in retail stores will climb about a half cent a pound as soon as grocers receive supplies at higher prices authorized for producers.

But even while the parade of price increases continued, OPA went ahead with an assignment it barely handles any more—a price cut.

Near June 30 Figures

Porter reaffirmed at a news conference that the new meat ceilings which the price decontrol board ordered restored will be at or near June 30 figures.

In ordering them back, the board said meat prices had climbed from 20 to 80 per cent after controls lapsed June 30.

Porter also announced a price increase of seven cents a hundred pounds for flour, effective Friday, 8 will be cut by the same amount when the agriculture department lifts restrictions on the milling of wheat, perhaps this fall.

To Get Black Marketeers

As for enforcement of meat ceilings, Porter said OPA plans to "throw the book" at Black Marketeers.

"There is no substantial basis," he declared, "for reports that we are going back to widespread black markets."

"I hope packers will devote a substantial part of their energy to making decontrol work—at least as much as they devoted to trying to get rid of control."

Meat ceilings, Porter announced will be restored first on live animals, effective Aug. 29, and at other distribution levels on this staggered basis:

At packing houses, September 1; wholesale, September 5; retail September 9.

This plan was substituted for general decontrol beginning Friday in order to "clean out over-celling meat" which dealers have on hand, Porter said.

Bothwell Hospital Notes

Miss Marian Guiles, Route 2, Sedalia, and Mrs. E. D. Sutherlin, 1417 West Eleventh street, dismissed.

Leonard Dowdy, 1613 East Seventh street, and Mrs. J. F. Self, 1601 South Vermont avenue, dismissed.

At packing houses, September 1; wholesale, September 5; retail September 9.

This plan was substituted for general decontrol beginning Friday in order to "clean out over-celling meat" which dealers have on hand, Porter said.

An Unsolved War Mystery

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—(P)—A still unsolved war mystery of an unexplained shot which was fired in the Pentagon building and which just missed the army's top designer of secret weapons was disclosed Wednesday by war department officials.

They reported that Maj. Gen. Gladeon M. Barnes, then chief of the ordnance department's technical division, by a chance movement was saved from a bullet which plowed through the window of his fourth floor office.

The incident occurred in the summer of 1942. The general was seated at his desk, talking with a caller, when he happened to swing around in his swivel chair. As he did so, the bullet whizzed by, just missing him.

Army intelligence and FBI agents found the shot had been fired from the fifth floor. It was established the bullet came from a nine-millimeter German Luger pistol. But that is as far as the investigation got. The question remains whether Barnes, credited with developing the block buster bomb and other war weapons, was the target of a spy or whether the shot was fired accidentally by someone handling a war trophy.

Close School Because Of Polio Case

MATTHEWS, Mo., Aug. 22—(P)—Six hundred students of the Matthews consolidated schools were at home Wednesday after board of education ordered a holiday because of outbreak of infantile paralysis. Carolyn Beason, aged 5, daughter of Cecil Beason, became ill Monday, school authorities said, and her illness was diagnosed yesterday as a severe case of polio. Schools probably will be reopened September 2.

This is a recent photograph of the home of Mrs. Dora Bachstein, whose body was recovered from a well on her 58-acre farm near Clarence, Mo., nearly five years ago. Three men are being held in jail on murder charges in connection with her death. The three, Sam Brown, 49, his son, Stanley, 24, and Mark Edward Hunolt, 36, all of Clarence, were arrested after Hunolt signed a statement saying that he and Stanley Brown went to Mrs. Bachstein's home the night of Nov. 17, 1941, "took her out of bed and forcibly pushed her into the well," it was reported by Highway Patrol Captain H. A. Hansen. (AP PHOTO)

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you well. When they get tired and worn out, right from the start, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with the kidneys. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg cramps, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills. This is the drug, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Where's the post-war business? Typical of empty shipyards, which by the first of the year will have only 33 vessels on the ways, is this barren scene at California Shipbuilding Corp., San Pedro, Cal.

By Marc J. Parsons,
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA)—The U. S. shipbuilding industry is fast becoming a post-war casualty.

Employment in private yards already has dropped from a wartime peak of almost 1,400,000 to a bare 200,000. By the first of the year, only 33 vessels and a few dredgers, barges, tugs and trawlers will be on the ways.

Basic need at the moment appears to be clarification of the government's attitude toward the entire industry. Current crimp in the building program stems from three things:

1. War cutbacks, expected by the industry.

2. Government economy, which has resulted in partial cancellation and postponement of the Maritime Commission's building program of passenger liners.

3. Tax troubles.

Shipbuilders are expected soon to ask the government for an overall policy survey. They point out that the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, upon which present policy supposedly is based, calls for U. S. to "foster and maintain" a merchant marine.

1. Capable of carrying "water-borne domestic commerce and a substantial portion of waterborne export and import commerce."

2. Capable of "serving as a naval and military auxiliary in time of war."

3. "Owned and operated" under the U. S. flag.

4. Composed of the best equipped, safest and most suitable type of vessels."

The U. S. cannot do this, they contend, if yards are allowed to lay idle and personnel scatter to other industries.

The Harvard School of Business Administration, in a report made for the Navy and the Maritime Commission, called the ship-building industry "essentially a munitions industry" and declared that "no world power can depend upon foreign nations to supply it with the materials of war."

Recent economy slash in the Maritime's passenger ship construction program is the biggest current headache. Besides the economy factor, the government contended that the program will save scarce materials and that reconversion and naval ship construction will help fill the gap.

Future Status in Doubt
"The facts are," says H. Gerish Smith, president of the Shipbuilders' Council, "that remaining naval construction is rapidly being completed." Reconversion of existing ships may keep a few yards busy for a while, but still leave the future status of the industry hanging in doubt.

As for the shortage of materials, Smith pointed out that the government reportedly is increasing by 50,000 tons the steel allotments to Great Britain to build merchant ships for Chile, and that the State Department has approved an Export-Import Bank loan to Chile to pay for the steel.

Tax troubles are keeping American shipping lines from contracting for new vessels for post-war trade. Again an interpretation of the Merchant Marine Act seems to be the key.

The act provides that lines operating under the subsidy provisions of the bill can deposit certain funds with the Maritime Commission as a construction reserve and that the funds will be non-taxable. Under this plan, 12 lines put aside $61,000,000 before and during the war as the basis for $180,000,000 in new construction when peace came.

The Treasury department, however, contends that these tax-free provisions did not hold during the war. It is seeking $40,000,000 of the $61,000,000 as taxes due. The lines have been forced to suspend their own construction programs until the matter is settled.

Today, Britain has 335 merchant vessels under construction. Dominions and Colonies have another 12. Combined gross tonnage is in excess of 1,500,000. The 33 now building in U. S. have a total gross tonnage of 188,000.

Post-War Hopes

America's post-war hopes for the passenger trade and the future of shipbuilding were tied up in seven vessels designed to compete in world trade. Two of these were for Latin American routes, three

Other outstanding tossers are Bob Bales, Kansas City; Brooks Denny, Joe Wors and Alvin Segbers of St. Louis, all running close behind Erwin. Denny and Segbers played a record-breaking game Wednesday with 106 shots. Segbers won with 70 and Denny made 64.

Claves himself has been coming to the fair since 1926, and he is known in St. Louis as the "godfather" of horseshoe pitching. This is his 25th year in the St. Louis Municipal Horseshoe league, and his gold membership coin is studded with nine diamonds representing as many champion-pins.

The aerial acts in front of the grandstand yesterday afternoon brought the usual pounding of spectators' hearts as the acrobats did the seemingly impossible in midair without the protection of nets below them. Governor Phil M. Donnelly watched Selden, the Stratosphere Man, with great interest, but Mrs. Donnelly turned her head and refused to permit herself to be frightened despite urging from other members of their party.

Two youngsters who were not to be dissuaded from their favorite position in front of the fish pool in the wild life conservation building at the fairgrounds this morning were Billy Lee and Tommy Bob Noland, five and seven years old, respectively. They spent the whole morning watching the goldfish. The boys are the grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Turner, 1409 South Warren avenue and are spending the summer in Sedalia.

Their appetites whetted by the displays of delicious looking Missouri foods, visitors at the Home Economics building have been giving a business to candy bar and ice cream stand operators there.

Contributions to the Greek War Relief Association are being received at a booth in the Agriculture building on the fairgrounds this week. The money goes into a fund for the purchase of 10,000 head of draft and stock animals for immediate shipment to the Greek homeland. Vasilios Beskas is chairman of the campaign with headquarters in Kansas City, is the local representative of the association.

The Moniteau county 4-H clubs have prepared an exhibit for the fair illustrating a common form of home accident — falling down defective stairs. A dummy lies sprawling on broken steps, his scrubbing materials tumbling beneath him.

Three high school bands were in review on the fair grounds today. They were from Warrensburg, LaGrange and Mansfield.

Istanbul Cat Heaven, No Dogs There

By Edwin B. Greenwald (For Hal Boyle)

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Aug. 22.—(P)—Talking about cats, as every body does here, there are people with more than their share of getting around the world who contend that Istanbul has more cats to the doorstep than any other city in any country.

There are no figures to confirm or refute this, but a glance up and down any Istanbul street is enough to convince the doubter that there is some merit in the argument.

No one, official or otherwise, is willing to hazard even a rough guess on the city's feline population, but the supply can be described as well in excess of ample.

Afterward she sent him the Navy Cross and clothing by her attorney.

"Is this all I get out of it?" asked the 32-year-old marine pilot. "Who is going to pay the income tax?"

The charges were dismissed by Municipal Judge Eugene Daney, Jr., following two days preliminary hearing.

Boystong had Mrs. Malcolmson arrested several months ago, charging she wrongfully appropriated $8,800 of nearly $20,000 he had entrusted to her while he was overseas. She maintained she had spent more than the $8,800 in traveling and other expenses authorized by Boyington in connection with their marriage plans.

The marriage didn't come off, Boyington married his present wife, Frances Baker, Hollywood actress, on the day Mrs. Malcolmson said she was to have received her Reno, Nev., divorce. She said she dropped her divorce action then.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—(P)—Col. Ralph A. Denison, 51, was a civilian yesterday for just 24 hours—the first time in 28 years.

Last spring's kitten crop littered the streets, choked gutters and blocked apartment house steps while the number of roving parrots in nowise diminished.

Istanbul is a cat paradise, one of the reasons being that there are few dogs to disturb normal cat routine.

The Turks rounded up all the city's stray dogs some 30-odd years ago, hauled them by ship to a barren island in the sea of Marmara and abandoned them in an unhappy fate. Left without food and without access to the mainland, the dogs simply devoured each other until, it may be reasoned, only one dog remained and he, or she, presumably starved to death. At least there are no dogs today on the island which, not at all strangely, acquired the name "Dog Island." There is no tourist trade there, either.

So Istanbul's cats don't worry about dogs; it's the dogs that do whatever worrying there is to be done. Whereas canines usually top dog anywhere else, they are strictly on the receiving end here and proceed with the utmost caution and timid friendliness. A report from the municipal office which takes care of such matters related that in June the office "disposed" of 137 stray dogs and only seven cats.

The Turks just don't like dogs, and that's that. Cats are something else again, and the sounds of the night offer ample proof.

The President expects to remain here at least 36 hours.

The primary purpose of the call is to take on fuel, food and water to last for the remainder of the cruise until the return to Washington Labor Day, September 2, 1946.

It stemmed from two "incidents" termed "outrageous" in the ultimatum.

Plane Forced Down

One was the action of Yugoslav fighters August 9 in firing upon and forcing down an American plane, whose crew and passengers then were imprisoned.

The second involved another passenger plane ten days later.

The State Department said it had been informed that this plane was shot down and "some if not all" of its occupants killed.

Dispatches from Belgrade said the wreckage of the craft was found only about two miles from the Austrian border.

The President expects to remain here at least 36 hours.

The primary purpose of the call is to take on fuel, food and water to last for the remainder of the cruise until the return to Washington Labor Day, September 2, 1946.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—(P)—Perplexed by several bouquets of flowers delivered to the police station in recent weeks, Desk Sergeant Steven Berkowitz finally learned the explanation when he caught a temporary patrolman stealing away with one of the bouquets.

The patrolman, unfolding a tale of unrequited love, admitted sending the flowers to a young woman on his beat. She always sent them back.

Probably Keeping St. Louis From The Top Spot

By Joe Reichler
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The St. Louis Cardinals, who have been chasing the Brooklyn Dodgers practically from the start of the season, might be occupying the top spot in the National League today were it not for former teammates now with rival clubs.

The latest ex-Card to help subdue his former teammates is Si Johnson, 38-year-old pitcher of the Boston Braves, who wore a St. Louis uniform from 1936 through 1938.

The veteran righthander turned back the Cardinals 4-3 last night under the lights at St. Louis. The defeat pushed the Cards back a game and a half to the pace-setting Dodgers who whipped the last place Pittsburgh Pirates 8-2 in the afternoon.

Eight Victory

Rebounding from their shutout defeat at the hands of the Pirates Tuesday night, the Dodgers landed on lefthander Ken Heintzelman and his two successors for 11 hits, three by Dixie Walker, to defeat the cellar dwellers, Southpaw Joe Hatten, although issuing six walks and tagged for eight safeties, went the route for his eighth victory.

Dave Ferriss, the Boston Red Sox' sensational sophomore, hurled his 22nd mound triumph, but needed help after giving up 14 hits in five and one-third innings. Staked to an 11-1 lead over the St. Louis Browns after two innings, Ferriss was banged for six more runs before being removed in the sixth and the Sox went on to win 12-9.

Yanks Take Doubleheader

The New York Yankees swept a double header from the Chicago White Sox, 10-1 and 5-4, winning the second game in the 12th inning when Johnny Lindell led off with a triple and after Relief Pitcher Earl Caldwell walked two men purposely to load the bases, scored on Pinch Hitter Nick Ettens single. Spud Chandler won his 16th in the opener.

The lowly Philadelphia Athletics made it two in a row over the third place Detroit Tigers when Phil Marchildon outpitched Virgil Trucks 4-1 with a neat seven hitter.

Rookie Outfielder Del Ennis' ninth inning home run enabled the Phillies to eke out a 1-0 victory over the Cubs in Chicago and Early Winn pitched Washington to a 4-3 victory over Cleveland at the capitol last night.

Johnny Hetki pitched and battered the Cincinnati Reds to a 7-2 victory over the New York Giants.

CONCRETE ROADS

Serve for Many Years

At Low Annual Cost

Concrete pavements generally carry the heaviest traffic. Yet their annual maintenance cost is far lower than any other pavement intended for similar service. And the rugged strength and stamina of concrete assure long life—many years of all-weather service without interruptions for frequent repairs or rebuilding.

Compare construction costs too, and you'll find that concrete pavement usually costs less to build than any other pavement of equal load-carrying capacity.

So with long life, low maintenance expense and economical first cost, concrete is easily the best investment for motorists' gasoline tax money, assuring as it does, low annual cost—the true measure of pavement economy.

Boston First Baseman Suffers Broken Arm

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 22—(P)—Ray Sanders, first baseman for the Boston Braves, suffered a fractured bone in his upper left arm in a collision with Erv Dusak of the St. Louis Cardinals in the seventh inning of last night's game at Sportsman's Park.

Sanders, a native of Bonne Terre, Mo., and formerly with the Cards, probably will be unable to play again this season.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22—(P)—Peru, Illinois, which launched a boy's baseball program in 1938, puts a claim for being about the best baseball town in the nation. Five kids who came out of the boys' league this year and two more have been signed for 1947. The No. 1 pitcher is Russ Myer, optioned by the Cubs to Nashville. Others are Larry Gapinski, Statesville, C. I. Jim Koehler, Rockwell, Ill., C. I. Bob Lamps, John Kao, and Pete Shurman, Middlebury, Vt. Bill Liepe, who fanned nearly 200 batters in 18 games, signed with Charlotte, N. C., for next season and with Outfielder Bill Urban with Elizabeth, Tenn. club. Maybe that one is a Brooklyn farm. Maybe this one is a Brooklyn farm.

Unanswered Question

A report kicking around the National League is that Charlie Rickey has promised each and every one of his Dodgers a brand new car if they're still in first place when they return from their western trip. That brings the query: If the Dodgers deliver, can Rickey? Shorts and Shells

Although Notre Dame already is being tabbed as the year's No. 1 football team (are you listening, Army), folks at South Bend are still worried about Illinois, Army and Southern, California . . . Nat Rodgers, Mike Jacobs' matchmaker, is trying to match Wesley Morris, the kid who belted over Bob Montgomery with a 300-foot drive for a Garden fight . . . Billy Gates, who must have imbibed some big-time football ideas as sports editor of the Baton Rouge, La., Advocate, has taken a tub-thumping job with the Oilmen of Glendale, Okla., who signed Bob Feller and who, like the Indians, a $7,500 penalty for doing it, is slated to be business manager of Feller's Denver club when Bob begins operations next year . . . Bruce Kinsella, who will play his 17th season of football with the Yankees this fall, is worried because his four-year-old son wants to lead the band at grid games instead of getting his nose rubbed in the dirt. "We made a mistake taking him to Navy games last year," Bruener says.

He Yodels While He Works

The Daily Washington
Merry-Go-Round

(Ed. Note — Drew Pearson, following his return from the Paris peace conference, writes another column on our tense relations with Russia and how we can prevent our present dangerous drift toward war.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—There is reason to believe that at the end of the war, Soviet Russia looked forward to a virtual alliance with the United States. The world's two greatest powers, the Russians felt, had no conflicting interests, could work together. Great Britain, the Russians figured, did not count. She was out of date, wiped up, finished.

However, no two nations can run the world without reaping the ill will of the rest of the world and eventual catastrophe. So, fortunately, the United States did not become an ally of Russia. Unfortunately, however, we have veered so far in the other direction that foreign diplomats generally consider us not only an ally of Great Britain but owned body and soul by the charming gentlemen in the British foreign office.

This not only snuffed up our relations with Russia but lessens our effectiveness with other members of the United Nations. For it is by playing our cards straight across the United Nations board, with absolutely no big power alliances that we can maintain the world leadership which is ours for the asking.

Ever since Britain and Russia combined to stop Napoleon in 1815, their armies and navies have been looking down the muzzles of each other's guns. For 100 years they have been the two most powerful, most suspicious, most opposite rivals in all Europe. And today England, weak, old and fighting for survival, figures that her only salvation is playing off the USA against the USSR.

Atlantic Charter Flouted

Thus at a time when the Allies were pledged to the principles of the Atlantic charter and world cooperation, Britain has gone back to the outmoded, trouble-breeding game of power politics. And she has played her cards so skillfully that she has just about euhched the USA into being the No. 1 enemy of the USSR.

One trouble with the British is that our bond of sympathy with them is so close that they know they can take advantage of us. Like an old man with a weakness for going on benders, the British know that when they get into trouble, their indulgent son will always bail them out.

Palestine is a case in point. The organization which mandated Palestine to the British — the League of Nations — is now nonexistent. The British know that when they get into trouble, their indulgent son will always bail them out.

BERLIN, Aug. 21—(P)—The big men on the campus of what's left of battered Berlin university are not known for their football or soccer prowess, but by the political parties to which they belong.

Therein is the great contrast between Berlin university students and American collegians. The contrast between the university itself and American schools is the manner in which party politics infiltrates into every dusty corner of the German institution.

Attendance at the three-quarters damaged university brings to some 3,000 earnest German students not only the lessons taught in books, but those which are learned in the rough and tumble politics of present day Germany.

No Fraternity Life At Berlin university there is no joyful fraternity life; no chatting groups of gay girls and sharp blades between classes; nothing at all of the light side of scholastic life. "Sororities? What are they?" asked a young co-ed in faded blue overalls who was pushing a heavy wheel barrow full of rubble. She was just completing her 86th hour helping to remove debris from the school grounds; she had 114 hours to go.

The most fortunate students have their own books; other lucky ones have been able to bribe the toothless old 'librarian' who guards the blackened 50,000 volumes stacked haphazardly in a damp, low ceilinged cellar; the unlucky have only their classroom lecture notes.

Observe Political Vigilance More than half the students are Freshmen, the average student is 25 years old; all of them have 12 years of isolation from the rest of the world to make up.

No part of the population observes political developments with more vigilance than these students. To them the present public emphasis on the "new democracy" is just so much window dressing.

"In reality," said one intense student in speaking of the older generation, "they are still the same unteachable, one-sided hypocritical bunch they have been for the past 12 years."

"Teach us all systems, not just one, and let us judge through our knowledge," they beg their professor, although with little hope. As one student put it: "Our present teachers are such lousy pedagogues they never had to join the party because the Nazis never considered them worthy to hold teaching jobs."

Concede They Are Serious The students concede they are too serious, but they remind you that they live in serious times. "Dancing is fine for young people who feel secure in the future; we do not," they add.

Free Flyers On An Ultimatum To Yugoslavia

Tito Orders No More Firing On Foreign Aircraft Over Territory

BY GEORGE PALMER

BELGRADE, Aug. 22.—(P)—Premier Marshal Tito—faced with an angry American ultimatum—to-night ordered his military forces not to fire on foreign aircraft shortly after Yugoslavia had released nine of the 10 occupants of the first American army transport forced down on Yugoslavia soil.

The Yugoslav leader's announcement was given in answer to a note from two American newspaper correspondents. The note was presented to Tito while he was conferring at his summer palace in Bled with U. S. Ambassador Richard C. Patterson. At the same time Patterson made formal delivery of the American ultimatum.

"An hour before this conference Tito's government released the seven Americans and two Europeans who were aboard the American C-47 transport forced down by Yugoslav fighters Aug. 9, near Ljubljana. The airmen had been held by the Yugoslavs for almost two weeks.

(Subsequently the airmen crossed the Morgan line, dividing British and American troops from Yugoslav forces in Venezia Giulia, and were billeted with U. S. troops of the U. S. 88th division. While they were not expected to be available for interviews until tomorrow, an American officer who talked with the party said they were in excellent physical condition and had been well treated by the Yugoslavs.)

After a two-hour conference with Tito, American embassy officials said they could give no immediate report of the meeting except to say that "The Yugoslav government has promised to give satisfaction."

Tito also gave Patterson assurance that American representatives would be granted permission to both inspect the damaged C-47 army transport forced down Aug. 9 and the wreckage of the crashed army transport shot down by Yugoslav fighters Monday. Two American graves registration representatives will proceed tomorrow to the scene of the crash of the second plane near Bled, close to the Austrian border, if the weather permits.

There were indications that none of the five Americans aboard the second transport survived the Monday crash. There was no official word of their fate.

(The Belgrade radio, heard at London, said tonight that the crew of that plane had parachuted from the craft and could not be found.)

Orders Not To Fire

The newspapermen in their questions to Tito at the Bled conference asked him: "In the event of further American planes flying over Yugoslav territory without clearance, is the same procedure to be adopted as on Aug. 9 and 19?"

Tito replied: "No. I have given the strictest orders to the Yugoslav Fourth Army commanders not to fire on foreign planes, civil or military, and the procedure is not to be repeated."

Tito, also in reply to the correspondents' questions, said he thought the infringement of the Yugoslav frontiers by American planes was "deliberate x x x to create impression among Yugoslavs that the forces of the United States government are so overwhelming that the Yugoslav government must take everything."

The Yugoslav premier complimented the pilot of the first American plane forced down, remarking, "It is obvious that the pilot was very skillful."

Four American crewmen, three U. S. army passengers, and three civilians were held after the first plane was downed under gunfire near Ljubljana. All were released at Ljubljana today except one civilian, a Turkish captain who was seriously injured by gunfire. He was reported recovering in a Ljubljana hospital.

The nine men released left Ljubljana for the Yugoslav frontier at about 1:30 p. m. (7:30 a. m., E. S. T.)

Harold A. Shantz, U. S. charge d'affaires in Belgrade, announced at 3:30 p. m.: "The Americans and two Hungarians have been released. They are being given motor transport to the Morgan line where they will be turned over to American authorities."

The released Americans and the two Hungarians were described as being in perfect physical condition. They were held in a hotel at Ljubljana just under two weeks.

The crewmen, with the exception of the pilot, declared after their release that the airplane was not fired upon after it was on the ground and their statement was collaborated by the passengers.

Privilege To Inspect

Tito gave Patterson assurances

Redress Will Be Asked From Yugoslavia

Feeling Now A Settlement Be Soon Roached

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(P)—Officials tonight weighed a demand for full redress from Yugoslavia for the casualties and property damage suffered in attacks on two army transport planes.

They expressed optimism over the prospects for an ultimate satisfactory settlement in view of the Tito government's quick reaction to a stern American ultimatum.

Press dispatches from Belgrade reporting the release of all the occupants of the plane forced down Aug. 9—except for the wounded Turkish captain who is still in hospital—were seen here as substantial compliance with the terms of the ultimatum.

Pending receipt of its own official intelligence, however, the state department declined to comment publicly.

If all the occupants of a second plane, fired upon Aug. 19, have been killed—as indicated in the Belgrade dispatches—the release of the nine occupants of the first plane would represent full compliance with the ultimatum.

The note released last night demanded only the release of "the occupants of these planes now in your custody," and that American representatives be permitted "to communicate with the two planes who are still alive."

Seek More Information

Before marking off these demands as met, the state department probably will require definite information as to the fate of those in the second plane.

The ultimatum had said that upon Yugoslavia's compliance with it, "The United States Government will determine its course in the light of the evidence then secured and the efforts of the Yugoslav government to right the wrong done."

Officials said privately this will pose two problems:

1. Redress for the lives of American army crewmen killed in the crash of the plane fired upon Aug. 19 and compensation for property damage involved in the downing of both the Aug. 9 and Aug. 19 planes.

2. The working out of some arrangements by which such incidents may be avoided in the future.

In this connection, American officials have given some thought to the possibility of using American fighter planes to protect unarmed transports whose route may bring them close to the Yugoslav borders with Austria and Italy. This possibility was based on the position taken by the government in its ultimatum note—refused to admit that the two American aircraft fired upon actually were over Yugoslav territory.

Informants said that any use of fighters would be carefully limited to non-Yugoslav territory, against the possibility that Yugoslavia's fighter planes might stray over the boundaries of their country and into areas where they have no legal right to be.

The Belgrade radio, heard at London, said tonight that the crew of that plane had parachuted from the craft and could not be found.)

Social Events

Miss Helen Frances Boltz, daughter of Mr. E. H. Boltz and the late Mrs. Helen Boltz of Green Ridge, and Donald Drew Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Davis, of San Francisco, Calif., were married Sunday, August 11, at 5:00 p.m. at the bride's home in east Green Ridge. The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. J. G. W. Kirschner, pastor of the Green Ridge Presbyterian church.

Large baskets of white gladioli and two seven-branch candelabra twined with smilax formed the setting for the ceremony.

Mrs. E. J. Sims played "Because" and Mrs. Glenn Eckles, in a white, floor-length dress, lighted the candles. She wore a corsage of white gladioli.

Mrs. G. H. Eckles, of Kansas City, accompanied by Mrs. E. J. Sims, sang "I Love You Truly." As the processional, Mrs. Sims played the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" by Wagner and as the recessional she played Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a gown of white lace and net, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and sleeves coming to a point over the hands. She wore a fingertip veil. Her bouquet was of white gladioli tied with white satin.

Cynthia Sampson, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. U. J. Sampson, and Melissa Jane Renfrow, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Renfrow, served as train bearers for the bride. Cynthia wore a dress of pink organdy and pink rosebuds in her hair while Melissa's organdy dress and rosebuds were yellow.

Mrs. Wallace Sampson, cousin of the bride, of Fort Smith, Ark., was matron of honor, wore a light blue brocaded silk and net gown with a narrow net ruffle around the drop shoulder neckline. Her tiara was of watching flowers.

Mr. Wallace J. Sampson, cousin of the bride, was best man.

A reception was held, following the ceremony, on the east lawn of the bride's home. A three-tier wedding cake, cut by the bridal couple, centered the lacecovered dining table. Small bowls of pink snapdragons and asters were on either side of the cake, which was served by Mrs. Earl Renfrow. Brick ice cream and punch were served by Mrs. Russel Ulmer, Miss Ruth Pace and Miss Birdie Way.

The bride was born and reared in Green Ridge, was a 1943 graduate of Green Ridge high school and attended CMSTC, Warrensburg. For the past two years she has taught Prairie View school.

Mr. Davis was born in Richland and received his education in Richland, Green Ridge and San Francisco, where he enlisted in the air corps in November, 1942. # 'Single Bliss' Discouraged In Early Days

Bachelors Were Taxed: Law Was Repealed in 1822

(Complied by the State Historical Society of Missouri at Columbia, Floyd C. Shoemaker, Secretary.)

Missouri suffered from a deluge of personable young bachelors in her early days. The number of men, a dime a dozen, did not make for a comfortable living either for themselves or for the future of Missouri; many families were officials who wished to discourage bachelorhood, levied, December 12, 1820, a tax of a dollar a year on all free white unmarried males between the ages of twenty-one and fifty years of age. Since the men so far exceeded the number of women, this law was most unpopular and was repealed by a new law enacted January 11, 1822, which reduced the penalty to fifty cents!

The St. Louis Missouri Gazette, realizing the sad state of affairs, in 1818 offered wardrobe pointers to single gentlemen to improve their chances. First of all, the choice of a hat was important. In the winter it should be of black or white, beaver with a brim only half an inch, but the summer hat was to be of white straw or chip with a green or black ribbon, with a six-inch brim, worn turned up in the back and cocked over one eye in the front.

Never Wore Drab Coats
According to the Gazette, a bachelor should never wear a coat of drab. Even if it was important; it should be worn buttoned up close to the chin with buttons of any shape but round. The velvet cape was to be cut low in the neck with no pockets and the sleeves long enough to hide the fingers. The vest should always be black or white, two inches longer than the coat so that a strip of it would show in front when the coat was buttoned. The collar should be shallow enough to show the cravat. "made of stuff, cambric or black silk, drawn tight, and knotted at the lower edge."

For his figure to show to the best advantage, the single gentleman should wear a steel or whalebone corset laced tight from the chest to the hips and his trousers of brown or blue should be cut to hang in graceful folds about the hips and to reach to within eight inches of the ankle, revealing his short laced boots, with heels four inches high, stod with steel and tapering to a point to give firmness to the step.

Gold Watch Chain Desirable
To complete this dashing picture, a watch chain of gold was desirable, but if that were beyond the bachelor's means, one of black ribbon or braided hair was acceptable. His hair was to be worn wisp'd up in front in points, curled a little at the earlocks, and hanging below his hat behind.

The Richmond Weekly Mirror in 1858 thought there were still too many bachelors. "Sad it is to see a city sacked and burned—a battlefield after a great slaughter—London in the midst of a plague—a ship burning at sea, a family pining in starvation; but the saddest sight of all is an old bachelor, walking steadily toward his end—his great duties undone—his shirt buttonless—his stockings out at the toes (if he has the good fortune to have any) and no one to leave his money to when he dies. In the first place, it is undoubtedly wrong in a moral point of view, or any other, for a human being to live single; therefore my dear bachelors I would advise you to pick up courage and pop the question. Now is the time, while you yet bear some sign of the flower of youth—not to wait until it is too late, and then weep over the past. There is hope yet. Uglier and older men than any of you, my friends, have married beautiful wives, who trained them elegantly, and spent their money admirably."

Luxuriant Sweet Potato Vines

Sweet potato vines are now making luxuriant growth. In many instances they are spreading over a great deal of ground. This is a natural habit of the sweet potato plant and is necessary for developing large sweet potatoates.

At this stage, examination will show that practically no swelling of the roots has taken place. This often, erroneously, leads to the idea that the potato is going all to vines at the expense of the underground part. As a result of this notion people are prone to cut off, or prune, the vines. This practice will result in a marked reduction in yield.

The vines should be allowed to grow normally without any pruning. With a large vine growth, the sweet potatoes will be in condition to store up large quantities of food in the underground stems which form the potatoes. The major part of the sweet potato formation and enlargement takes place in the last few weeks of growth and the larger the vines are at this time, the greater will be the possibility of large and rapid sweet potato growth.

Blister Beetles Show Up In The County

Blister beetles have shown up in a number of places in the county. The use of a 3% DDT dust or a spray made by using 3 table-spoonfuls of a 50% wettable DDT powder has been found to control them. Direct the dust or spray so as to hit the beetles as the DDT will kill by contact. The dusting form of DDT on the market usually is a 10% mixture. Use road dust or talc to dilute and mix at the rate of 1 part of 10% DDT to 2 parts road dust. If additional attacks are likely, cover the foliage thoroughly, but avoid covering the fruit.

Time For Last Planting Of Beans

In normal seasons the middle of August, which usually marks the end of the dry period when fall showers usually come, is the time to make the last planting of bush beans.

Both green and wax bush beans may be planted in order to supply excellent quality beans for late summer and early fall use.

The varieties of green beans which are recommended are Stringless Green Pod, Full Meas, and Tender Green. Wax beans are Pencil-Pod Black Wax, Britt Wax, and Sure Crop.

The seedbed should be worked down fine and compact, the same as for spring planting. The application of a commercial fertilizer such as 4-14-4 applied on either side of the row or about three inches away an dthree or four inches deep will help insure heavier production.

Free Flyers On An Ultimatum To Yugoslavia

that American representatives would be granted permission both to inspect the damaged C-47 of the Aug. 9 incident and the wreckage of the one shot down Aug. 19. Two graves registration representatives will proceed to the scene of the crash near the Austrian frontier tomorrow morning, weather permitting.

Members of Patterson's party who attended the conference said Tito complimented Capt. William Crombie, pilot of the first plane forced down, by saying, "It is obvious that the pilot was very skillful."

Following are the other questions submitted by American newsmen, and Tito's replies:

"How can agreement be reached between America and Yugoslavia so that American planes off their course, or in distress, can receive courtesies of the air?"

Tito's reply: "It should be easy to arrange specific signals to be given in case of planes in distress, or lost or forced by bad weather into Yugoslav territory."

Arrive Near Gorizia

Trieste, Aug. 22.—(P)—U. S. 88th Division headquarters announced tonight that nine crew members and passengers of the American transport plane forced down by Yugoslav fighters on Aug. 9, arrived at a divisional post near Gorizia, Italy at 7:30 p. m. G. M. T. (2:30 p. m. Eastern Standard Time).

They included seven Americans—one of them a civilian—and two Hungarian passengers.

They arrived at the Morgan line in an UNRRA truck that traveled over highway 56, the main road from Ljubljana. Lt. Donald B. Paulsen of the 88th Division met them and took them to division headquarters in Gorizia.

All were reported by the announcement to be in good health. The tenth member of the plane—a Turkish captain who was wounded by gunfire from the Yugoslav fighters when the plane was forced down—was not with the party.

Crewmen and passengers on the plane who arrived at Gorizia were Capt. William Crombie, the pilot; Lt. William McMew, Atlanta, Ga., co-pilot; Corp. Robert L. Dahlgreen, Cicero, Ill., Flight Engineer; Corp. John L. Dick, McKeepsport, Pa., radio operator; Lt. Donald Carroll, Elgin, Ill., passenger; Sgt. Joseph F. Hochecker, Chicago, and Raymond S. Blackburn, Clayton, Ohio, civilian passenger. The other two passengers were Dr. Alabar Palley and Dr. Arthur Lederer.

On July 28, Austro-Hungary declared war on Serbia, too soon for the German foreign office to mediate as it appeared ready to do.

On July 30, Russia—having been assured of French military aid—ordered a general mobilization.

The same day German told Russia to stop it or face war.

On August 1, Germany declared war on Russia, and on August 3 declared war on France. On the 4th Germany invaded Belgium, and on that day Britain declared war on Germany.

Turkey had joined Germany's alliance on August 2, but Italy left for neutrality at first, then went over to the British camp the following May.

Bulgaria lined up with Austro-Hungary in September and declared war on Serbia the next month. Romania stayed out for two years, then joined the western allies in 1916 after being promised Austro-Hungarian territory.

The United States was at war by April 6, 1917.

State Fair Notes

H. Claves of St. Louis is again superintendent of the event.

The aerial acts in front of the grandstand Wednesday afternoon brought the usual pounding of spectators' hearts as the acrobats did the seemingly impossible in midair without the protection of nets below them. Governor Phil M. Donnelly watched Selden, the Stratosphere Man, with great interest, but Mrs. Donnelly turned her head and refused to permit herself to be frightened despite urging from other members of their party.

Two youngsters who were not to be dissuaded from their favorite position in front of the fish pool in the wild life conservation building at the fairgrounds Thursday morning were Billy Lee and Tommy Bob Noland, five and seven years old, respectively. They spent the whole morning watching the goldfish. The boys are the grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Turner, 1409 South Warren avenue and are spending the summer in Sedalia.

Their appetites whetted by the displays of delicious looking Missouri foods, visitors at the Home Economics building have been giving a business to candy bar and ice cream stand operators.

Contributions to the Greek War Relief Association are being received at a booth in the Agriculture building on the fairgrounds this week. The money goes into a fund for the purchase of 10,000 head of draft and stock animals for immediate shipment to the Greek homeland. Vasilios Beskas is chairman of the campaign with headquarters in Kansas City, is the local representative of the association.

The Moniteau county 4-H clubs had an exhibit for the fair illustrating a common form of home accident—falling down defective stairs. A dummy lies sprawling on broken steps, his scrapping materials tumbling beneath him.

Three high school bands were in review on the grounds Thursday. They were from Warrensburg, LaGrange and Mansfield.

Reelected Adventists Head

Moberly, Mo., Aug. 22.—(P)—C. E. Hutesh of Kansas City was reelected president of the Missouri Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists at the state convention in progress here. D. C. Buteris, also of Kansas City, was reelected secretary-treasurer.

The national flag of Denmark is said to be the oldest national ensign in the world.

Navy Hospital For St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 22.—(P)—Construction of a 1,000-bed, navy hospital and medical research center in St. Louis county is scheduled to start next spring, Congressman Walter C. Ploeser said last night.

Ploeser, a member of the navy appropriations committee, said funds for the $15,000,000 institution were included in the naval appropriations bill passed by Congress in June.

The exact site for the new hospital has not been selected. It will be the second large service hospital for the St. Louis area.

No Back Seat Driving Here

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—(P)—Pvt. Charles Breed guaranteed against back seat drivers by building an auto with two front ends.

Breed, 19, of Paw Paw, Mich., made his mechanical monstrosity by slicing in half two 1929 model Fords and welding both front ends together.

Each end is complete with a hood, windshield, headlights and steering wheel. There is only one engine at present, but Breed plans to install another so he can go in either direction.

"I made it just for the heck of it," Breed said, after driving the car to Chicago. "It might prove popular though. It eliminates back seat drivers."

For what it's worth to refresh your memory, here's how World War I started in what is now Yugoslavia.

In 1914, just about 32 years ago, the lineup in Europe was like this:

Britain had a triple entente with France and Czarist Russia, to hold at bay the triple alliance of Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy, which also had come to include Serbia and Romania.

Each power had been maneuvering within this structure to get what it wanted. Ambitions stacked up like this:

British wanted to maintain naval supremacy and all it meant and for a decade had been in a naval race with Germany, France, which had got Morocco in 1911, was engaged in an arms race with Germany. Russia wanted control of the Black Sea and the Dardanelles straits, and was promising a Pan-Slavic movement in the Balkans.

Germany wanted to get a corridor through the Balkans to the riches of Asia Minor. Austria-Hungary wanted ports on the Aegean Sea because she was afraid of losing her Adriatic ports to Italy. Italy wanted North Africa, Asia Minor, and the eastern shore of the Adriatic.

Archduke Assassinated Serbia was an unwilling satellite of Austria-Hungary, and wanted to break out of her landlocked position—through Albania or Montenegro or the Austrian-held Dalmatian coast—to the Adriatic.

This precarious balance was upset on June 28, 1914, when the Austrian Archduke Francis Ferdinand was reviewing troops in Bosnia west of the Serbian border. As he rode into the Bosnian city of Sarajevo he and his wife were assassinated by Serb nationalists.

On July 23, Austro-Hungary served an ultimatum on Serbia, involving the stationing of Austro-Hungarian officials on Serb soil.

On July 24, Russia told Serbia it had Russian support.

On July 25, Serbia suggested putting the question up to the Hague Court but refused to permit foreign officials on her sail.

On July 28, Austro-Hungary declared war on Serbia, too soon for the German foreign office to mediate as it appeared ready to do.

On July 30, Russia—having been assured of French military aid—ordered a general mobilization.

The same day German told Russia to stop it or face war.

On August 1, Germany declared war on Russia, and on August 3 declared war on France. On the 4th Germany invaded Belgium, and on that day Britain declared war on Germany.

Turkey had joined Germany's alliance on August 2, but Italy left for neutrality at first, then went over to the British camp the following May.

Bulgaria lined up with Austro-Hungary in September and declared war on Serbia the next month. Romania stayed out for two years, then joined the western allies in 1916 after being promised Austro-Hungarian territory.

The United States was at war by April 6, 1917.
